

Why Buy a Meal Plan?

All students living in residence halls between terms and for summer school sessions must participate in the appropriate summer meal plan. For your convenience, there are a variety of locations open at different times of day across campus.

Students living in the apartments may opt out of the Summer Unlimited Meal Plan* by completing the meal plan change form no later than 5p.m. EST the Tuesday before their contracted term starts. Visit dining.richmond.edu/meal-plans/changes.html to find the form. Students may not opt out of a meal plan once their term starts.

Commuters students are not required to purchase a summer meal plan. However, all food purchases with Dining Dollars at the Heilman Dining Center and campus retail operations on campus are tax-free. Therefore, you save 13.5% on each dine-in purchase or as much as 7.5% on retail purchases.

 Students that opt out, but are housed during transition week, must have a meal plan for that week. Transition week is the week between graduation and the beginning of summer classes. Students will be charged the current weekly rate.*
